Fast

A response to your government benefits eligibility request is guaranteed for our in-network banks, and you'll get it fast — usually in just a few hours. If you're still verifying income the old way, you're wasting time.

Streamlined

Through Confirmation, a bank provides aggregated info of an applicant's deposit account balances, and the platform retains an applicant's information so you can easily re-verify eligibility as needed. With all your requests in one online location, you'll limit your duplicative work.

Free

There is no cost to send a government benefits eligibility request through Confirmation.
